

GRIMSBY TOWN FOOTBALL CLUB

SAFEGUARDING CHILDREN & YOUNG PEOPLE POLICY

Grimsby Town Football Club will review this policy annually. However, the policy is under constant review and will be monitored and changed when there is an organisational change, change in legislation or following any learning outcomes from safeguarding incidents, concerns or allegations.

The Board may amend this policy at any time. The Board will continue to review this policy to ensure it is achieving its aims.

Applies to:

This policy applies to all staff, including Board of Directors, of which Philip Day is the Director for Safeguarding responsibilities and Ian Fleming, Chief Executive Officer, the Safeguarding Senior Manager, all managers, coach's, paid staff, volunteers or anyone working on behalf of Grimsby Town Football Club. The Club seeks to ensure the safety and well-being of all children and young people who engage in activities with the Club.

Reason for the Policy:

If you work or intend to work with children or young people, you are automatically placed in a position of trust that carries authority, status, power and responsibility. If the adults involved are positive role models displaying high moral and ethical standards, the benefit to children and young people's development can be significant. Football can and does have an effect on children and young people's development and is potentially an inspiration to whole communities.

It is through the application of the Policy and Procedures that the Club will seek to develop a positive and proactive safeguarding/welfare programme to enable all children and young people to participate in an enjoyable and safe environment. This equally applies to the safety and security of those working with and responsible for the activities involving children and young people.

The Safeguarding and Welfare of Children and Young People under eighteen years are legally regulated through Acts of Parliament (Children Act 1989 and The Children Act 2004) Safeguarding is a term that is broader than 'child protection' and relates to the action taken to promote high ethical standards throughout of persons in these categories and protect them from harm.

Safeguarding is everyone's responsibility. Safeguarding is defined in Working Together to Safeguard Children 2013 as:

- protecting children from maltreatment
- preventing impairment of children's health and development

- ensuring that children grow up in circumstances consistent with the provision of safe and effective care and
- taking action to enable all children to have the best outcomes

Organizations, which work with children and young people, must always act in their best interests and ensure they take all reasonable steps to prevent harm to them. Having safeguards in place within an organization not only protects and promotes the welfare of children but also it enhances the confidence of directors, staff, volunteers, parents, carers and the general public.

Scope

This Policy is for use across the Club and is to be observed by all those working with children, young people and adults. The standard application of this Policy and Procedures across the Club, promoting safeguarding good practice is mandatory.

All the requirements are obligatory and are to be enforced as indicated by the appropriate persons in all cases where there are any suspected instances of poor practice or abuse.

All employees, workers, consultants, agency staff and volunteers must make themselves aware of the Club's Safeguarding Children Policy and Procedures and where appropriate their work with children and young people will be supported by a safeguarding training programme.

The designated person with responsibility for safeguarding and child protection at the Club is the Safeguarding/Welfare Officer.

The Club fully acknowledges and accepts its responsibility for the safety and well-being of children and young people, who engage in any way in any activity carried out with the Club.

Their welfare is of paramount importance. It is the duty of all adults working at the Club to safeguard the welfare of children and young people by creating an environment that protects them from harm.

Activities undertaken at the following locations/departments are under the remit of this policy including:

- First Team and Youth training ground [Cheapside, Waltham].
- Academy Development [Wintringham Oasis, Grimsby].

The Club also has a responsibility to maintain regular dialogue with the Local Safeguarding Children Board and the Local Authority Designated Officer (LADO)

Key Principles

Safeguarding is everyone's responsibility. Safeguarding is defined in Working Together to Safeguard Children 2015 as:

- safeguarding is everyone's responsibility: for services to be effective each professional and organisation should play their full part; and
- a child-centred approach: for services to be effective they should be based on a clear understanding of the needs and views of children. It is important to listen to children and young people (under 18) and to take account of their wishes and feelings, both in individual decisions and in the development of services.

Organizations, which work with children and young people, must always act in their best interests and ensure they take all reasonable steps to prevent harm to them. Having safeguards in place within an organization not only protects and promotes the welfare of children but also it enhances the confidence of directors, staff, volunteers, parents/carers and the general public.

When establishing, developing or improving a service, project or activity GTSET will seek to ensure that any legally-binding Service Level Agreement implements safeguarding measures equivalent to this policy.

Legal Framework:

Responsibility of safeguarding children – position of trust and duty of care

The Club acknowledges its responsibility to safeguard the welfare of every child and young person who has been entrusted to its care and is committed to working to provide a safe environment. All employees, workers, consultants, agency staff and volunteers are accountable for the way in which they exercise authority, manage risk, use resources and protect children from discrimination and avoidable harm. To ensure best practice at all times employees, workers, consultants, agency staff and volunteers must be fully aware of this Safeguarding Children Policy and Procedures and the responsibilities. All employees, workers, consultants, agency staff and volunteers have a duty of care to keep children and young people safe; this can be exercised through the development of respectful, caring and professional relationships between adults and children/young people.

Employees, workers, and volunteers must demonstrate integrity, maturity and good judgement whilst working with children and young people.

Any person responsible for a child or young person, whether solely or jointly, is in a position of trust which requires behaviour to be in accordance with this policy.

Examples of positions of trust (but are not limited to) include:

A Manager of a Department, member of community staff or volunteer working with children, a coach, a team manager, a scout, a physiotherapist, a driver, a learning mentor/tutor, as well as staff engaged in match day activity involving children and young people, including supervising mascots, stewards, catering personnel and photographers.

All employees, workers, and volunteers working with children and young people have signed up to and thereby agree to the principles as set out in the policy.

Protecting Children and Young People with Disabilities

Some departments of Grimsby Town FC may need to be aware that for many years, children and young people with disabilities were not considered to be vulnerable to abuse. It is now known that this is not the case and that children and young people with disabilities are at an increased risk of abuse and that the greater the disability the greater the risk. There are a number of factors that contribute to this and these include:

- Lack of friends and peer group to support and protect.
- Intimate/physical care/invasive medical care required. This can make it difficult for the child or young person to know what is acceptable and unacceptable touch.
- Lack of speech or limited communication. This makes it harder to report abuse.
- Multiple carers – making it hard to identify who may be abusing.
- History of being told what to do and not given choices.
- Depending on the abuser for a service or basic need.
- Having medical conditions that are used to explain injuries.

Children and young people with disabilities may also be less valued than their peers and poor care may be observed but tolerated by others. This might include such things as not speaking directly to the child or young person; not offering choices; not moving and handling them safely; not respecting their privacy and dignity; not treating them according to their age; allowing physical restraint to occur; or using derogatory language.

There is no one way to ensure that children and young people with disabilities are protected but the safest environments are those that help children and young people to protect themselves by helping them to speak out and do their best to stop abuse from happening and take responsibility for observing, challenging and reporting poor practice and suspected abuse.

Employee/worker training

All employees or workers working in direct contact with children and young people shall be required to complete The FA Safeguarding Children workshop and will receive regular training appropriate to their position. Details of those satisfactorily completing this course are retained by the Club Safeguarding/Welfare Officer.

Whistleblowing:

If you disclose information about wrongdoing the law protects you from being treated unfairly or losing your job.

A disclosure qualifies for protection if you are an employee or volunteer and you disclose something about an organisation.

A disclosure must be about something that affects the general public such as:

- A criminal offence has been committed, is being committed or is likely to be committed
- An legal obligation has been breached
- There has been a miscarriage of justice
- The health or safety of any individual has been endangered
- The environment has been damaged
- Information about any of the above has been concealed.

This is set out in the Public Interest Disclosure Act 1998.

Also refer to the Football Club's Whistle Blowing Policy with regards to further information and procedures.

Staff Code of Conduct

The Football Club/Academy code is that all staff should conduct themselves with the utmost professionalism and that sound common sense should be applied at all times. It is important for any member of staff not to put themselves in a position, by actions or word, that could give rise to any sort of misunderstanding or, indeed, allegation, for example when conducting one to one tuition, or sports coaching, or conveying a student in private cars, giving personal email or telephone numbers to students. Also, in particular, caution should be observed about sending text messages or any other electronic communication to students and young players. Such communication could easily be misunderstood or considered as inappropriate.

Staff should refrain from any unplanned off site interactions with young players. In all dealings with young players please observe common sense rules: all dealings with students should be conducted according to the highest professional standards.

Concerns around Radicalisation & Extremism

Protecting children from the risk of radicalisation should be seen as part of Football's wider safeguarding duties, and is similar in nature to protecting children from other forms of harm and abuse.

During the process of radicalisation it is possible to intervene to prevent vulnerable people being radicalised. Radicalisation refers to the process by which a person comes to support terrorism and forms of extremism. There is no single way of identifying an individual who is likely to be susceptible to an extremist ideology. It can happen in many different ways and settings. Specific background factors may contribute to vulnerability which are often combined with specific influences such as family, friends or online, and with specific needs for which an extremist or terrorist group may appear to provide an answer.

The internet and the use of social media in particular has become a major factor in the radicalisation of young people. As with other safeguarding risks, coaching staff should be alert to changes in children's behaviour which could indicate that they may be in need of help or protection. Staff should use their judgement in identifying children who might be at risk of radicalisation and act proportionately, which may include making a referral to the Channel programme.

The Counter-Terrorism and Security Act 2015, places a duty on specified authorities, including local authorities and childcare, education and other children's services providers including Sport, in the exercise of their functions, to have due regard to the need to prevent people from being drawn into terrorism ["the Prevent duty"].

The Prevent duty of care relates to reducing or eliminating the risk of individuals becoming involved in terrorism.

Radicalisation refers to process by which a person comes to support terrorism and extremist ideologies associated with it.

Safeguarding is the process of protecting children, young people and vulnerable persons from being drawn into terrorist activity.

Grimsby Town Football Club recognizes its responsibilities to the "Prevent duty of care", supporting the strategy in all activities involving children, young people and vulnerable people with any aspect of the football club.

The Designated Club Safeguarding/Welfare Officer will be responsible for working with partnership agencies involved in the Channel programme including the police in undertaking the initial assessment around concerns raised as to whether a referral is appropriate.

Understanding and identifying abuse and neglect:

Abuse and neglect are forms of maltreatment – a person may abuse or neglect a child by inflicting harm, or by failing to act to prevent harm.

Child welfare concerns may arise in many different contexts, and can vary greatly in terms of their nature and seriousness. Children may be abused in a family or in an institutional or community setting, by those known to them or by a stranger, including, via the internet. In the case of female genital mutilation, children may be taken out of the country to be abused. They may be abused by an adult or adults, or another child or children. An abused child will often experience more than one type of abuse, as well as other difficulties in their lives. Abuse and neglect can happen over a period of time, but can also be a one-off event. Child abuse and neglect can have major long-term impacts on all aspects of a child's health, development and well-being.

The warning signs and symptoms of child abuse and neglect can vary from child to child. Disabled children may be especially vulnerable to abuse, including because they may have an impaired capacity to resist or avoid abuse. They may have speech, language and communication needs which may make it difficult to tell others what is happening. Children also develop and mature at different rates so what appears to be worrying for a younger child might be normal behaviour for an older child. Parental behaviours may also indicate child abuse or neglect, so you should also be alert to parent-child interactions which are concerning and other parental behaviours. This could include parents who are under the influence of drugs or alcohol or if there is a sudden change in their mental health. By understanding the warning signs, you can respond to problems as early as possible and provide the right support and services for the child and their family. It is important to recognise that a warning sign doesn't automatically mean a child is being abused.

There are a number of warning indicators which might suggest that a child may be being abused or neglected.

Indicators of Abuse

Even for those experienced in working with child abuse, it is not always easy to recognise a situation where abuse may occur or has already taken place. Most people are not experts in such recognition, but indications that a child is being abused may include one or more of the following:

- Unexplained or suspicious injuries such as bruising, cuts or burns, particularly if situated on a part of the body not normally prone to such injuries
- An injury for which an explanation seems inconsistent
- The young person describes what appears to be an abusive act involving them
- Another young person or adult expresses concern about the welfare of a young person
- Unexplained changes in a young person's behaviour e.g. becoming very upset, quiet, withdrawn or displaying sudden outbursts of temper
- Inappropriate sexual awareness
- Engaging in sexually explicit behaviour
- Distrust of adult's, particularly those whom a close relationship would normally be expected
- Difficulty in making friends
- Being prevented from socialising with others
- Displaying variations in eating patterns including over eating or loss of appetite
- Losing weight for no apparent reason
- Becoming increasingly dirty or unkempt

Definitions of Abuse:

Physical Abuse: is deliberately physically hurting a child. It might take a variety of different forms, including hitting, pinching, shaking, throwing, poisoning, burning or scalding, drowning or suffocating a child. Physical abuse can happen in any family, but children may be more at risk if their parents have problems with drugs, alcohol and mental health or if they live in a home where domestic abuse happens. 1 Babies and disabled children also have a higher risk of suffering physical abuse.

Physical harm may also be caused when a parent or carer fabricates the symptoms of, or deliberately induces, illness in a child. Physical abuse can also occur outside of the family environment.

Neglect: is a pattern of failing to provide for a child's basic needs, whether it be adequate food, clothing, hygiene, supervision or shelter. It is likely to result in the serious impairment of a child's health or development. Children who are neglected often also suffer from other types of abuse. It is important that practitioners remain alert and do not miss opportunities to take timely action. However, while you may be concerned about a child, neglect is not always straightforward to identify.

Neglect may occur if a parent becomes physically or mentally unable to care for a child. A parent may also have an addiction to alcohol or drugs, which could impair their ability to keep a child safe or result in them prioritising buying drugs, or alcohol, over food, clothing or warmth for the child. Neglect may occur during pregnancy as a result of maternal drug or alcohol abuse.

Sexual abuse is any sexual activity with a child. You should be aware that many children and young people who are victims of sexual abuse do not recognise themselves as such. A child may not understand what is happening and may not even understand that it is wrong. Sexual abuse can have a long-term impact on mental health.

Sexual abuse may involve physical contact, including assault by penetration (for example, rape or oral sex) or non-penetrative acts such as masturbation, kissing, rubbing and touching outside clothing. It may include non-contact activities, such as involving children in the production of sexual images, forcing children to look at sexual images or watch sexual activities, encouraging children to behave in sexually inappropriate ways or grooming a child in preparation for abuse (including via the internet). Sexual abuse is not solely perpetrated by adult males. Women can commit acts of sexual abuse, as can other children.

Emotional Abuse: is the persistent emotional maltreatment of a child. It is also sometimes called psychological abuse and it can have severe and persistent adverse effects on a child's emotional development.

Although the effects of emotional abuse might take a long time to be recognisable, practitioners will be in a position to observe it, for example, in the way that a parent interacts with their child. Emotional abuse may involve deliberately telling a child that they are worthless, or unloved and inadequate. It may include not giving a child opportunities to express their views, deliberately silencing them or 'making fun' of what they say or how they communicate.

Emotional abuse may involve serious bullying – including online bullying through social networks, online games or mobile phones – by a child's peers.

Bullying: may come from another young person or an adult. Bullying is defined as deliberate hurtful behaviour, usually repeated over a period of time, where it is difficult for those bullied to defend themselves.

Signs of bullying include:

- Behavioural changes such as reduced concentration and/or becoming withdrawn, depressed, tearful, emotionally up and down, reluctance to go training or competitions
- An unexplained drop in performance
- physical signs such as stomach aches, headaches, difficulty in sleeping, bed wetting, scratching and bruising, damaged clothes, bingeing e.g. on food, alcohol or cigarettes
- a shortage of money or frequents loss of possessions

It must be recognised that the above list is not exhaustive, but also that the presence of one or more of the indications is not proof that abuse is taking place. It is NOT the responsibility of those working at GTFC to decide that child abuse is occurring. IT IS their responsibility to act on and report any concerns.

Good Practice

All employees, workers, consultants, agency staff and volunteers working with children or young people should adhere to the following principles and action (list is not exhaustive):

1. Always work in an open environment (e.g. avoiding private or unobserved situations and encouraging open communication with no secrets).

12. Always give enthusiastic and constructive feedback rather than negative criticism.
13. Secure written parental consent for the Club to act in loco parentis, to give permission for the administration of emergency first aid or other medical treatment if the need arises.
14. Keep a written record of any injury that occurs, along with details of any treatment given.
15. All other good practice/common sense principles given the varying situations.

Poor Practice

The following are regarded as poor practice and should be avoided by all employees, workers, consultants, agency staff and volunteers (list is not exhaustive):

16. Unnecessarily spending excessive amounts of time alone with children and young people away from others.
17. Being alone in changing rooms, toilet facilities or showers used by children and young people.
18. Taking children or young people alone in a car on journeys, however short.
19. Taking children or young people to your home where they will be alone with you.
20. Sharing a room with a child or young person.
21. Engaging in rough, physical or sexually provocative games, including horseplay.
22. Allow or engage in inappropriate touching of any form.
23. Allowing children or young people to use inappropriate language unchallenged.
24. Making sexually suggestive comments to a child or young person, even in fun.
25. Reducing a child or young person to tears as a form of control.
26. Allow allegations made by a child or young person to go unchallenged, unrecorded or not acted upon.
27. Do things of a personal nature that the child or young person can do for themselves
